(b) in considering whether any dwelling house or part of a dwelling house which is also used as a factory, workshop or workplace or whether any factory, workshop or workplace used also as a dwelling house, is a nuisance by reason of overcrowding, the court shall have regard to the circumstances of such other user.

Information of nuisances to the Board.

21. Information of a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under this Part may be given to the Board by any person, and it shall be the duty of every officer of the Board to give such information.

Notice requiring abatement of nuisance.

22. (1) On the receipt of any information respecting the existence of a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under this Part, the Board shall, if satisfied of the existence of a nuisance, serve a notice on the person by whose act, default or sufferance the nuisance arises or continues, or, if such person cannot be found, on the occupier or owner of the premises on which the nuisance arises, requiring him to abate the nuisance within the time specified in the notice, and to execute such work and to do such things as may be necessary for that purpose, and, if the Board think it desirable (but not otherwise), specifying any works to be executed.

(2) The Board may also, by the same or another notice served on such occupier, owner or person, require him to do what is necessary for preventing the recurrence of the nuisance, and, if they think it desirable, specify any works to be executed for that purpose, and may serve the notice notwithstanding that the nuisance may for the time being have been abated, if the Board consider that it is likely to recur on the same premises:

Provided that—

(a) where the nuisance arises from any want or defect of a structural character, or where the premises are unoccupied, or consist of a tenement or barrack yard, the notice shall be served on the owner;

(b) where the person causing the nuisance cannot be found, and it is clear that the nuisance does not arise or continue from the act, default or sufferance of the occupier or owner of such premises, the Board may themselves abate the same and may do what is necessary to prevent the recurrence thereof;

(c) where a medical officer of health of a district certifies to the Board that any house or part of a house in his district is so overcrowded as to be injurious to the health of its inmates, whether or not members of the same family, the Board shall take proceedings under this section for the abatement of such nuisance.

(3) Where a notice has been served on a person under this section and either—

(a) the nuisance arose from the wilful act or default of the said person; or

(b) such person makes default in complying with any of the requisitions of the notice within the time specified, he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars for each offence, whether any such nuisance order as is in this Part mentioned is or is not made upon him:

Provided that in the event of immediate action becoming, in the opinion of the chairman of the Board, necessary to deal with a nuisance the abatement of which is certified by a medical officer of health of a district to be urgent, the chairman of the Board may take all such steps and do all such things as the Board is empowered to do for the purpose of abating a nuisance under this Part.

On non-compliance with notice, order to be made.

23. (1) If either—

(a) the person on whom a notice to abate a nuisance is served as aforesaid makes default in complying with any of the requisitions thereof within the time specified; or

(b) the nuisance although abated since the service of the notice, is, in the opinion of the Board, likely to recur on the same premises, the Board shall make a complaint before a Magistrate, and such Magistrate may make on such person a summary order (in this Part referred to as a nuisance order).

(2) A nuisance order may be an abatement order, a prohibition order or a closing order or a combination of such orders.

(3) An abatement order may require a person to comply with all or any of the requisitions of the notice, or otherwise to abate the nuisance within the time specified in the order.

(4) A prohibition order may prohibit the recurrence of a nuisance.

(5) An abatement order or a prohibition order, shall, if the person on whom the order is made so requires, or the Magistrate considers it to be desirable, specify the works to be executed by such person for the purpose of abating or preventing the recurrence of the nuisance.

(6) A closing order may prohibit a dwelling house from being used for human habitation.

(7) A closing order under this Part shall only be made where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that by reason of a nuisance a dwelling house is unfit for human habitation, and if such proof is given the Magistrate shall make a closing order and may impose a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(8) The Magistrate when satisfied that the dwelling house has been made fit for human habitation, may declare that he is so satisfied and cancel the closing order.

(9) If a person fails to comply with the provisions of a nuisance order with respect to the abatement of a nuisance, he shall, unless he satisfies the Magistrate that he has used all due diligence to carry out such order, be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars a day during his default; and if a person knowingly and wilfully acts contrary to a prohibition or closing order, he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars a day during such contrary action.

(10) The Board may enter the premises to which a nuisance order relates, and abate or remove the nuisance, and do whatever may be necessary in execution of such order.

24. (1) Where a person appeals to a Judge of the High Court against a nuisance order, no liability to a penalty shall arise, nor, save as in this section mentioned, shall any proceeding be taken or work done under such order until after the determination or abandonment of such appeal. Appeal against nuisance order.

(2) There shall be no appeal to a Judge of the High Court against a nuisance order unless it is or includes a prohibition order or closing order or requires the execution of structural works.

(3) Where a nuisance order is made and a person does not comply with it and appeals against it, and such appeal is dismissed, or is abandoned, the appellant shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars a day during the non-compliance of the order, unless he satisfies the court before which proceedings are taken for imposing a penalty that there was substantial ground for the appeal and that the appeal was not brought merely for the purpose of delay; and where the appeal is heard, the Judge may, on dismissing the appeal, impose the penalty as if the court were that of the Magistrate.

(4) Where a nuisance order made on any person is appealed against and the court which made the order is of opinion that the continuance of the nuisance is injurious to health, and that the immediate abatement thereof will not cause any injury which cannot be compensated by damages, the court may authorize the Board immediately to abate the nuisance; but the Board, if they do so, and the appeal is successful, shall pay the cost of such abatement, and the damages (if any) sustained by the said person by reason of such abatement; but if the appeal is dismissed or abandoned, the Board may recover summarily as a civil debt the cost of the abatement from the said person.

When order may be addressed to Board.

25. Where it appears to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the person by whose act, default or sufferance a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under this Part arises or the owner or occupier of the premises is not known or cannot be found, then the nuisance order may be addressed to, and if so addressed shall be executed by, the Board.

Sale of matter or thing removed under abatement order.

26. Any matter or thing removed by the Board in abating or doing what is necessary to prevent the recurrence of a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under this Part may be sold by public auction, or if the Board think that the circumstances require it, may be sold otherwise, or be disposed of without sale; and the money arising from the sale may be retained by the Board and applied in payment of the expenses incurred by them with reference to such nuisance, and the surplus (if any) shall be paid on demand to the owner of such matter or thing.

(b) where under this Part, a nuisance has been ascertained to exist, or a nuisance order has been made, then at any such hour as aforesaid until the nuisance is abated, or the works ordered to be done are completed or the closing order is cancelled as the case may be; and

(c) where a nuisance order has not been complied with or has been infringed, at all reasonable hours including all hours in which business therein is in progress or is usually carried on, for the purpose of executing the order.

28. All costs and expenses incurred in serving a notice, making a complaint or obtaining a nuisance order, or in carrying the order into effect, or in abating or suppressing any nuisance, shall be deemed to be money paid to the use and at the request of the person on whom the order is made, or if the order is made on the Board, or if no order is made but the nuisance is proved to have existed when the notice was served or the complaint made, then of the person by whose act, default or sufferance the nuisance was caused; and in the case of nuisances caused by the act or default of the owner of the premises, such costs and expenses may be recovered from any person who is for the time being owner of such premises in any court of competent jurisdiction.
